The Past

We, the class of 1960, welcome you, our parents, teachers, and friends, to the 1960 commencement of Warren High School. We would like to thank you for your interest, your confidence, and your presence here this evening.

Tonight will probably be the last time that our entire class will be together. But before we separate to seek our own careers, I would like to look back to the good times that we have had together.

Remember—

all the football games which we won, especially the thrilling Armstrong game;

the hand and orchestra which participated in district, state, and exchange contests;

the committee meetings which were both work and fun;

the classes which we completed so easily, but which we actually enjoyed;

and all the dances, parties, picnics, and our trips which we enjoyed throughout high school.

There are just a few of the many fine memories of high school days. However, we cannot live in the past; we cannot dwell on these memories. Instead, let us look to the present and future for new experiences and happiness which will build our character, faith, and individuality.

—VICTOR L. GENBERG

Appreciation For Assistance Given

The Three-Hour awards are given thanks to Joseph V. Parnell, principal, and other Warren High School faculty members for their cooperation in assembling pictures and other material for this Commencement Special.

The Future

"There is a tide in the affairs of men
Which, taken at the flood,
Leads on to fortune."
In this way, the immortal William Shakespeare expressed his belief that the future and our fate are determined by our actions and our dreams and better memories.

During these future years we shall and courage will be tested, but with the continuing help of our friends and those who have made this step forward possible, we will be able to face those tests and make our places as citizens of the world. We hope that you—our parents, friends, and citizens of Warren—will continue looking on with those gifts you have already so graciously given—encouragement, patience, and kindness.

They may each of us, with God's help, find our road to happiness and success.

—SUSAN E. WERNER
